

Lucy Harrington

Regional Director

Lucy Harrington is a Colorado native and the Rocky Mountain Region Director. In her position, she oversees site feasibility analysis and selection, bank entitlement, credit sales, land stewardship, and long-range planning.

Prior to joining Westervelt, Ms. Harrington worked as a federal employee for nine years for a variety of agencies throughout the western U.S. including the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the Natural Resources Conservation Service, the Bureau of Land Management, the Bureau of Reclamations, and the U.S. Forest Service. Through this experience, she gained a solid understanding of both regulations and field restoration techniques. She also served as the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's representative on the Interagency Review Team (IRT) in the San Francisco Bay region.

Ms. Harrington graduated from Colorado State University in Fort Collins, Colorado, with double majors in Wildlife Biology and Spanish Languages and Literature. She also holds a certificate from the School for International Training for Comparative Ecology (Ecuador). Ms. Harrington has a 10(a)(1)(a) Scientific Collecting permit for the California red-legged frog (Rana draytonii) and has served as president and vice president of the Sacramento-Shasta chapter of The Wildlife Society. She currently sits on the steering committee of the Middle South Platte River Alliance in Evans, Colorado.
