

Sarah Correa

Sales and Marketing Manager

As the Sales and Marketing Manager, Sarah Correa plans and conducts outreach to clients, landowners, and key organizations to partner with Westervelt. This includes coordination with large corporations, organizations, and governmental entities – specializing in connecting with large publicly funded infrastructure projects.

Prior to working for Westervelt, Sarah served as an environmental planner on large-scale transportation projects across California assessing construction-related impacts on environmental resources and coordinating state and federal documentation. In this role, Sarah focused on CEQA and NEPA-level environmental documentation processes including cultural and biological resource management, Initial Studies, Environmental Assessments, Mitigated Negative Declarations, and Environmental Impact Reports.